Contents

An individual plan for the course specialisation will be created in consultation with the student. It will include individual compositions, participation in compulsory and independent projects and exercises in arrangement, instrumentation and composition.

Realization

Each course occasion's language and form is stated and appear on the course page on Luleå University of Technology's website.

The course includes individual and group lessons, seminars and master classes, as well as compulsory and independent projects. The programme is primarily taught on campus at the School of Music in Piteå at Luleå University of Technology.

Examination

If there is a decision on special educational support, in accordance with the Guideline Student's rights and obligations at Luleå University of Technology, an adapted or alternative form of examination can be provided. The course component Continuous Presentation is examined via performance, written, and oral presentations of the relevant tasks.

The course is examined during the Final Presentation. The course tutor and the student will determine what will be presented based on the individual plans.

For the grade Pass, the student must have completed and presented the relevant tasks in such a way that the independent learning outcomes can be deemed to have been met.

For the grade Pass with credit, the student must fulfil all the requirements for the grade of Pass and demonstrate musical or artistic skills that go beyond the requirements for the grade of Pass.

Unauthorized aids during exams and assessments

If a student, by using unauthorized aids, tries to mislead during an exam or when a study performance is to be assessed, disciplinary measures may be taken. The term "unauthorized aids" refers to aids that the teacher has not previously specified as permissible aids and that may assist in solving the examination task. This means that all aids not specified as permissible are prohibited. The Swedish version has interpretative precedence in the event of a conflict.
