Course Aim

The student is to write and defend a thesis requiring the ability to choose and justify a relevant problem, purpose, scope, theory, method and material, as well as to analyse and draw conclusions based on these choices.

Contents

Every student writes and defends a thesis. Choice of topic, purpose, theory, method and material is presented in a written memorandum that is discussed at a seminar. Every student acts as discussant on another student's memorandum and thesis.

Realization

Each course occasion´s language and form is stated and appear on the course page on Luleå University of Technology's website.
Teaching consists of tutoring and seminars training the student's ability to formulate an interesting problem, as well as the ability to justify choice of scope, theory, method, material, etc. Ability to explore and analyse a scientific problem is of utmost importance, as well as presenting the results, primarily in writing, but also orally.

Examination

If there is a decision on special educational support, in accordance with the Guideline Student's rights and obligations at Luleå University of Technology, an adapted or alternative form of examination can be provided.
To pass the course the student shall participate in compulsory meetings and seminars, including one seminar for presentation and defense and one as opponent. Further participation in compulsory meetings and seminars as decided by the supervisor. To pass the course further requires e-publishing of the thesis in accordance with the rules of LTU and that the thesis is completed no later than 12 calendar months after the course has formally ended. The student can however only utilize further supervision 6 calendar months after the course has formally ended.
